A GIFT FROM GOD

By Roxanne Patton

It's Thursday June 27 and I just finished reading the newsletter from Church. When I came to the letter that Larry Troy wrote I had tears running down my face, you see I was that sister in need that Sunday. I was that person who thought they didn't need Church to have God, but what I have come to realize is, I was wrong, so very wrong.

In 2007 my granddaughter was born with a heart defect and not expected to live long, but she fooled the doctors and came through her first surgery without complications, then at the sweet age of 6 months she went for her second surgery and she never recovered, I was very angry and bitter and already gone from Church, I didn't think I needed church to have God, I prayed and prayed for her to make it but she didn't. I sat in my home all alone with no one to share my pain with, I had to endure it myself, I was lost, I thought what kind of God would do this, I fell to my knees and asked God why. Later that year my daughter who had lost her child had to bring her son to scouts and it was here at Pine Street. She felt like she couldn't do it anymore and with her work schedule it became very hard so I volunteered to take him so I could spend time with him without his other sisters around. Never did I ever think that by doing this I would be taking my first steps to coming back to the Lord and realizing that I needed this church and this wonderful family here. In February we had Scout Sunday and I was elected to bring him to church so I did, to my surprise everyone was so wonderful to me and him and I felt something I never felt before. I joined Scouts later on so I could help out and spend time with my grandson. On the committee was a very nice lady who belonged to this Church and asked me why I hadn't come back to church, so I told her I would try. When I did come to church everyone welcomed me again and said they were glad that I came back and I felt this warmth like no other. I was coming for a while and then stopped because I thought you had to dress in a certain way to come to church and when we had a meeting she asked me why I stopped so I told her and to my surprise, she said you only need clothes to cover you, it doesn't matter what they look like and she genuinely meant it.

I started coming back on a regular basis, but what I didn't realize was God working in his wonderful way because before that I had gone to the Relay for Life as a survivor and there was a stand there in need of walkers, so I volunteered my son and I to walk for them only to find out she too belonged to this wonderful Church. And now a few weeks ago I lost my granddaughter's father to a tragic car accident and was devastated, but this time I had my new family to help me through it and I am so ever grateful that God steered me in this direction. It took a long time getting here, but I made it and it was truly a blessing what I felt that day when everyone came to me with prayers and hugs and words I needed to hear and I will always be so ever grateful that I found this family. Pine Street Lutheran Church is the most beautiful place to be; the people here truly do care about each other and not just saying it because they feel they should, but because they know they really care. Thank you God for helping me find my way home.

Very thankful,
Roxanne

We ask you to spread God's Grace to all who attend. If you can devote any amount of time to serving God, please come. As little as 20 minutes, or several hours. We are located across from the Danville Post Office.

God's Work, Our Hands Sunday September 8

Come to Pine Street Lutheran Church on September 8 and share the excitement and celebrations.

At 9:15 AM celebrate the kick-off of Sunday School as we Rally for the year. A light breakfast will be served. A sign-up sheet to provide breakfast items is in the social hall.

At 10:30 AM we will be enjoying Worship together.

A Covered Dish luncheon will follow when we will have a celebration of Faith with the Swank Family (See next article). Come and share (or give your stories to Sue Baylor) how Nellie and Don have influenced your faith. Nellie was a Sunday School teacher at Pine Street for over 50 years and Don was active in Boy Scouting and Property Ministry!

September 8 is also an opportunity to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. One church, freed in Christ to serve and love our neighbor. It is a dedicated day of service when you can help make your community a better place. To celebrate this day you may bring donations of pet food, etc., for the Animal Resource Center.

At 2:00 PM the Women of the ELCA will have their Fall Cluster Gathering of the North Branch Conference Churches. Our program will include Tales to Tails Therapy Dog Program. The program will include how children improve their reading skills by reading to dogs. Registration is $3.50 or you can bring a new children's book.

We look forward to seeing you in church on September 8th.

HONORING SWANKS

We will be having a celebration to honor Don and Nellie Swank for all their contributions to our church family. The plan at present is to have a program during fellowship time on God's Work, Our Hands

Sunday, September 8th.
(This hopefully will become an ongoing series of programs helping us to remember and tell our stories.)

Please think about your memories of the Swanks and prepare to share them either in writing or orally during the event. Please, also write them out and give them to Sue Baylor or any other member of the Transformational Ministry team. We will compile them into a keepsake for the Swank family and our family here at Pine Street.

(Team Members are: Sue Baylor; Christine Koons; Lorene and Ryan Versluis; Mary Jane and Bill Snyder; Roxanne Patton; Larry Troy; and Pastor Keith)

A THANK YOU + MORE

A very special thank you to all that have donated plastic bags to my project. Some have asked, "What are you doing with these bags?" I intend to make a mat for the homeless. You must realize that plastic won't absorb water, so better to sleep on that than blankets or other materials. It will be six feet long and I will display it so all can see. I'm sure it will take me quite a while to make. Again, thank you, and continue to bring in your bags.

A STEWARDSHIP MINUTE

Written by S. William Snover, MD
Financial Secretary

Using God's gifts

Every Sunday we end our worship service by reciting together our church's mission statement: "We share our faith, hope and love through prayer, discipleship, ministry and worship". I find this to be reaffirming and comforting, to know that we, as a congregation in Christ, have agreed upon some specific purposes and methods for showing our unity in serving God.

How many of us accept the concept that we are all ministers? Isn't the minister that big fellow who stands up in front of us on Sunday morning and runs the liturgy, offers the prayers, reads the Gospel, and gives the sermon? Isn't our job simply to sit, listen, learn, obey, and give a contribution? I think everyone knows the answer, it is a resounding "NO".

Ephesians 4:7 says "But to each of us grace was given according to the measure of Christ's gift (to us)." Verse 11 goes on to say "And He Himself gave some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastor's and teachers". This means that God, through Christ, has given each and every one of us the ability to praise God through action, using our God given talents, our time and our treasure to serve others. This is what ministry is. It has nothing to do with seminary or ordination, and everything to do with serving others in God's name, the true definition of ministry. If you look at our Sunday worship liturgy guide, it states very clearly that the minister of Pine Street Evangelical Lutheran Church is "the people of Pine Street".

Congratulations! You're a minister. Whatever your gift (and each and every one of us has at least one gift), go and use it to glorify God by serving others. Be a minister. Be a participant. Don't wait to be asked. Volunteer, show up, contribute your time, talent, ability and treasure, and watch God's kingdom at PSELCH and in our community and world grow, thanks to you.

Humbly,
Bill

THIS MONTH'S

LOVE Offering Envelope is BLANKET SUNDAY

With Blanket Sunday so early in October, September will be Blanket Sunday month for the Love Offering envelopes.

For those of us who don't know how or have the time to make quilts, the next best thing is to give a donation to purchase quilts and blankets.

Our Synod is able to purchase blankets at a much better price than we can, thus making our dollars do a lot more. It also costs money to ship them. It costs approximately $2 to send each quilt overseas.

So, as you can see, money given is an important way you can support this outreach ministry!

Thank you in advance for your donations!

Please use your special Love Offering envelope in your packet for your donations or use a blue pew envelope and mark
it "Blankets".
Thank you!

THANK YOU

Dear Friend of Lutheran World Relief,

Thank you for your generous gift of 50 pounds of Personal Care Kits for LWR's distribution overseas. These gifts of your hearts and hands – Quilts and soup, plus supplies for health, school and baby care – are beautiful expressions of God's grace and love to people all around the world. Your care and compassion makes it possible for families and communities to keep themselves healthy, warm, educated and employed.

In the Philippines, Mission Quilts, School Kits and Personal Care Kits were distributed to people displaced by conflict. One father, Joel Libradily, expressed relief that he could use his Quilt to cover his one-year-old daughter at night. "This is much nicer than relief blankets - thicker and more colorful," Joes explained. "This will help because it's cold up in the hills."

On behalf of Joel, his young daughter, and countless others in villages, schools, hospitals and refugee camps around the world, I extend deepest thanks for your contribution.

In Christ,

Melanie W. Gibbons

I know we have never met...but I believe that is what makes the kindness you have shown me so beautiful!

Thank you very much for the care packages you sent me. I share the contents with my shipmates and it brought many smiles ☺. If anyone else was a part of them being sent, please give them my thanks! Especially the children who made the cards and pictures! I used to babysit and seeing those brought a huge smile to my face!!

With Love,

Dear Friends,

On June 25, there were a group of people that came into the office. I thought maybe there was some kind of meeting that I didn't know about. I started chatting with everyone and began to wonder what this meeting was about. I soon found out when they asked me to go to the Resource Room.

There was a chair in the middle of the room and they asked me to sit down. To my surprise, they did a laying-on of hands as a send-off for me before my surgery. Everyone who touched me with their hands, warmth, and spirituality sent a calming, loving feeling into my heart. It was such a wonderful, moving experience that I will never forget. I went into surgery knowing it was going to go well and that I would be alright. I knew that God was with me and I wasn't scared. Thank you to all of you!

Love,
Deb

Dear Friends,

I have many people to thank, but most of all THANK GOD!!! I am still here and back to work. And, I am doing fine.

Thank you to:

Everyone for the cards, telephone calls, visits, soup, bread, flowers and your never ceasing prayers!

Pastor Keith for your visits at the hospital and your phone calls.

To all the helpers to Pastor Keith to handle things at the office, and to Pastor Keith for doing my work and his own.

With Love,

Emergency Preparation for Families with Special Health Needs

The 2013 hurricane season began June 1, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
predicts a very active season.
Hurricanes and other disasters present a serious danger to anyone living in their path, but families with members who have special health needs face unique challenges when disaster strikes. These families need to make additional preparations in case the worst happens.

It's important to remember that families may have to rely on their own resources following a disaster.
A common misconception is that government assistance is available immediately. It can take several days or even weeks for federal aid to arrive, depending on the size of the disaster and the number of people affected.

During emergencies, TRICARE sometimes waives referral and authorization requirements and allows beneficiaries to obtain extra doses of their prescription medication.

Sign up for state-specific TRICARE disaster alerts at www.tricare.mil/disaster.

The first step is to have a disaster plan. The plan should have information on meeting places, important personal information for each family member and locations for where family members are likely to be if a disaster strikes. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) has a template families can use to build their plan at www.ready.gov/make-a-plan. All families should also have a disaster kit including water, food, extra batteries and a first aid kit. Visit www.ready.gov/basic-disaster-supplies-kit for more details on how to build a disaster kit.

Families with special health needs may have to consider what to do with medications that have to be refrigerated, and what to do if a family member requires a climate controlled environment if the power goes out.

If the disaster plans involves going to an emergency evacuation shelter, make sure to bring everything needed to support a family member with special needs. Don't assume the shelter will have medications, incontinence supplies, medical equipment or other items. Expect to sleep on a cot or on the floor and bring any necessary positioning pillows or other specialty bedding. Families with a service animal should bring its tags, license, medication, food, water, bags for waste and other items it may need.

As with many other aspects of living with a family member who has special medical needs, preparing for a disaster requires additional thought and preparation. Each family's needs are unique, but some tips apply to most - pack light, bring an extra pair of reading glasses or hearing aid batteries and bring all relevant medical information, including a list of allergies and military IDs or insurance cards. Share emergency plans in advance to help family members with a communication disability and prepare emergency plan reminders in a form they can comprehend during a tense situation.

FEMA maintains a website, <http://www.ready.gov/>, with a wealth of information about preparing for disasters. A list of resources for families with special health needs can be found at www.disability.gov/emergency_preparedness. Always be prepared for a disaster, and if the worst happens, think safety first.

Preparing in advance can relieve a great deal of stress and make a big difference when facing an emergency.

God's Gifts to You

By Dee Carr

The morning birds' song, the hum of the bees, a butterfly's visit, a soft summer breeze, take a moment, listen, and just rest.

The smell of the grass, a thunderstorm's power, a Blue Bird in flight, a most lovely flower, enjoy them, and know that you're blessed.

A delicious meal, a fun time with friends, devoted pets, and love that never ends, simple things, yet Wonderful, too!

A newborn baby's smell, a small child's kiss, the Love of family, little moments of bliss, and each is God's gift to You.
